"The world can not bury Christ. The earth is not deep enough for His tomb; the clouds are not wide enough for his winding-sheet. He ascends into the heavens, but the heavens can not contain Him. He still lives - in the church which burns unconsumed with His love; in the truth that reflects His image; in the hearts which burn as He talks with him by the way." Edward Thomson

At the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet held by the Junior Chapter, Future Homemakers of America, at Appomattox Intermediate School on Thursday evening, March 29th, Ann Sears (on the right) presented trophy to Teresa Cyrus (center of picture) who was chosen Outstanding Junior FHA Girl of the Year.

Named Jr. FHA Outstanding Girl

The Appomattox Junior Chapter, Future Homemakers of America, held their annual Mother-Daughter Banquet at the Appomattox Intermediate School on Thursday evening, March 29th.

After a delicious dinner, prepared by the cafeteria staff and served by the Junior Chapter FFA boys, a most interesting program was presented by members of the Chapter.

Debbie Morrell, Chapter President, welcomed mothers, guests and sponsors and a red rose corsage was presented to each of them. Darlene Forrest, reporter, recognized the Outstanding Committee - The Degree Committee, and presented them with a certificate of award. Ann Sears, Federation Historian, recognized the Outstanding Junior FHA Girl of the Year. Teresa Cyrus was presented her with a trophy.

Guest speaker for the evening was Nadine Robinson, State Reporter, a senior at Appomattox County High School and a FHA member for five years. Nadine gave a brief history of Future Homemakers of America and its programs. She told the group about her trip to California last summer to the National FHA Convention and about some of the many things she saw and enjoyed in California. She challenged each FHA member to strive to serve as an officer on the local, state or national level. According to Nadine Robinson, it is a most rewarding experience and one that will never be forgotten.

Chapter sponsors for the Junior Chapter are Mrs. Lucy S. Green and Mrs. Velma B. Elliott. Chapter officers are President, Debbie Morrell; 1st Vice President, Susan Parris; 2nd Vice President, Teresa Cyrus; Secretary, Carolyn Winston; Treasurer, Kathy O'Brien; Reporter, Darlene Forrest; Parliamentarian, Sharon Paulette; Historian, Kathie Garris; and Federation Historian, Ann Sears.

April 1 through April 7 is National FHA Week and the banquet was in connection with this event.

Districrt III EH Council Met In Amherst Tuesday

The annual meeting of the Virginia Extension Homemakers Council, District III, was held in Amherst County at the Babcock Auditorium, Sweet Briar College, on Tuesday, March 27th.

"Emerging Roles For Women" was the theme for the meeting over which Mrs. V. L. Hudson of Evergreen, President of District III, presided. The Council was observing its Golden Anniversary.

District III includes the counties of Amherst, Appomattox, Campbell, Charlotte, Halifax, Pittsylvania, Nelson and Prince Edward and the cities of Danville and Lynchburg. Twenty-five women from Extension Homemakers Clubs in Appomattox County attended the meeting.

Harvey Mays, soloist, with the "New Virginians" from V.P.I.&S.U. sang three songs for the group attending, he was accompanied by Lynn Campbell from Central Virginia Community College.

Guest speakers for the meeting were Mrs. Bertha Wailes and Dr. Catherine Coleman Seaman.

Mrs. Wailes, an alumna of Sweet Briar College with an A. B. Degree in history and science, received her M.A. degree from the University of Virginia and has done graduate work at Columbia University. She spoke on "The Fifty Years of Progress in Extension" and was a very qualified speaker on this subject as she is a past president of the Virginia Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs and has also served as eastern director of the National Extension Homemakers Council.

Dr. Catherine Coleman Seaman spoke on the theme, "Emerging Roles For Women". She is assistant professor of anthropology and sociology and is chairman of the department at Sweet Briar College where she has been teaching since 1967. She is an alumna of the University of Virginia where she earned her A.B., M.A. and Ph. D. degrees and in 1965 she won the awards as the outstanding student and the outstanding woman at the University of Virginia.

The members of the Amherst County Extension Homemakers Clubs served as hostesses for the District III meeting. Following the meeting, a luncheon was served in the college dining room.

Auction Set For Saturday

Lunch will be available.

Deep Subject

As America's consumption of energy has continued to go up -- some of those looking for more energy reserves have had to dig down deeper. And digging recently set a new depth record when a natural gas well in Oklahoma reached to the 30,050-foot mark. And drilling that deep cost over 100 drill bits and $5 million. Although those exploring for gas did not find the amount they were looking for, they learned enough to justify their faith that natural gas exists six miles underground!

GIVE GENEROUSLY

To fight cancer, have an annual physical checkup and give a generous check to support the work of the American Cancer Society.

Any Age

Cancer doesn't respect birthdays, it can strike young and old.But, explains the American Cancer Society, folks over 40 should especially remember to have an annual checkup including cancer tests. One of the important tests is called a "procto" and it's used to detect a very common form of cancer, colon-rectal cancer.

Farmville Jaycees Push "Bluegrass"

The Farmvil e Jaycees have taken to pushing grass--Blue Grass," that is!

They will sponsor Farmville's first bluegrass music festival at the Five County Fairgrounds, just west of Farmville, Virginia on U. S. Routes 460 and 15 on the weekend of April 27 and 28.

"Almost as contagious as spring fever, bluegrass music is catching on among music lovers of all ages across the country," explained Chuck Dowdy, festival committee chairman. "The growing popularity of both festivals and bluegrass led to the chapter's choice of this year's fund raising project," Dowdy added.

The two day Farmville Festival will feature eight well-known bands, and will be designated with everyone in mind -- from the single student to the entire family.

Rain, a threat to most festivals, won't be able to dampen this one. A large covered pavilion, capable of seating 1,000 will be available should the weather threaten. Otherwise, blankets and lawn chairs will be in order.

Attend Clinic Workshop

Dr. Mark Weatherly, specialist in marriage and family therapy, has returned from Atlanta Georgia where he recently attended a clinic workshop study on "Marital Stress and Physical Illness".

The Atlanta workshop was co-sponsored by the American Academy of Family Physicians and The American Association of Marriage and Family Counselors. Practioners from both professions gained credit hours toward their continuing education programs.

Family Physicians and Marriage Counselors participated jointly in the study of new insights toward combining their special skills for more effective treatment of the total patient client.

Clinic curriculum included; Overviews of changes in society and their impact on marriage and family life; the physician as a marital health consultant Emotional components of physical illness that affect marital relations; Marriage Clinics in Australia; Physican-Patient Communications concerning Sexual problems; Illness behavior and marital stress among working class couples.

Noteable lecturers and panelists were Clark Vincent, PhD. Director of the Behavioral Sciences Center, Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Wake Forest University; James P. Semmens MD., Associate Professor of Obstetricks and Gynecology Medical University of S. C.; Ian Paton, PhD, Director of the Marriage Guidance Council of Australia; Richard Bores, MD Psychiatrist, Winston Salem, N. C.; Edwin Flournoy, Md., president elect Georgia Academy of Family Physicians and Thomas McGinnis, EdD, Director, the Counseling and Psychotherapy Center, Fair Lawn, New Jersey.

Physical symptons seen every day by family physicians are linked to the marital pressures and family problems of their patients. The marriage and family practioner is often beset by medical problems of his clients which entipinge upon the client's ability to be an effective marital partner and family member. These were the areas of common concern which were examined during the workshop.
